LIVING IMPACT

Message from the chair

Greetings and welcome to the IU Theatre and Dance 2023-2024 production season!

We are thrilled with the productions we have for our students and audiences this year.

Live performance is a place for communities to gather for engaged storytelling. Our stories this year continue with our tradition of bringing the most exciting, meaningful and entertaining work to our audiences. We continue to use live performance as an opportunity to express the zeitgeist of our world. We hope that you will consider joining us for many additional lectures, discussions and collaborations throughout the season.

This year we welcome a new generation of graduate and undergraduate students that will directly contribute to the artistry and craft. We'd like to take a moment to welcome many guest artists to our season – from choreography and music direction to directing and designing. We'd also like to welcome Dr. Sarah Johnson, who joins our faculty as the Head of Dramaturgy, David Tracy, our new Public Relations and Audience Development Specialist and Carolynn Stouder, our new Program and Project Director.

Our department says a fond farewell to Professor Nancy Lipschultz and Dr. Eleanor Owicki. Our department expresses the deepest gratitude for their years of expertise, artistry, teaching, and service. We wish them the best as they move into the next chapter of their lives.

Thank you to our patrons, donors, Theatre Circle members, and of course YOU, the audience experiencing our students' work at this performance! Please visit our website or pick up a brochure to learn more about how you can become a member of the Theatre Circle and to find out more about our upcoming productions, student independent projects, guest artists, student organizations and class offerings. We look forward to having you join us for all our live performances this year and wish you our very best for the 2023-2024 academic year!

With Gratitude,

Dramaturg's note

Welcome to Head Over Heels, a comic mash-up of the 16th century pastoral romance Arcadia by Sir Philip Sidney and the music of the 1980s band The Go-Go's. This musical is a unique jukebox musical because it is an adaptation of a preexisting story. There are many popular examples of jukebox musicals but most either create their own story (think Mamma Mia, Good Vibrations, Moulin Rouge) or are a form of biography for the musical group (think Beautiful, Jersey Boys, Ain't Too Proud). When the original writer of this musical wrote the proposal for what it was to be, after describing where he felt other jukebox musicals went wrong, he said "I'd like to do something smarter and funnier and send the audience home happy."

Jeff Whitty, the playwright of Head Over Heels, believed that the amalgamation of these two very different sources would elevate this musical and set it apart from other jukebox musicals. Unfortunately for Whitty, he was removed, partially by his own volition, from the creative process by the producers after it was made clear they had different ideas for how the show should continue to develop after its first performances at the Oregon Shakespeare Festival. James Magruder, another playwright then stepped in and finished the musical to make it the adaptation you will see today. He included a note describing his version of the show in the introduction in script. He says, "Head Over Heels is not mean. It is not self-aware. It is not snarky. It does not refer to other musicals. It is not anachronistic... It is a show with an open, generous, inclusive heart for heartless times." As you watch the show pay special attention to what you think might have come from the original text from the 16th century and what was added in the adaptation. You might be surprised that some of the plot lines were taken straight from the text. If you would like to learn more about the source text, check out the QR code! You will be taken to a study guide where you can learn all about the world of the play! You will also find more details about some of the specific inspirations the creative team looked at as the show was developing. We certainly think that our version of Head over Heels is just as smart as it is funny and will send you home happy.

SPECIAL THANKS to our 2022–2023 and 2023–2024 season Associate Producers

The contributions of Associate Producers directly fund an IU Theatre production of the donor's choice. As an associate producer, you will help directly support the cost of a production's costume, scenic, lighting, sound and projection design.

Your name will be featured in our programs and all curtain speeches. You will also enjoy benefits as year-round members of Theatre Circle, an organization founded to promote and encourage the study and practice of theatre arts in the Department of Theatre, Drama and Contemporary Dance and an awareness of theatre throughout the community.

For more information, please scan the QR code, pick up a Theatre Circle brochure in the lobby, or contact David Tracy at davtracy@iu.edu

You can also visit the Department of Theatre, Drama, and Contemporary Dance website at theatre.indiana.edu and select the Theatre Circle link under Alumni+Giving.
